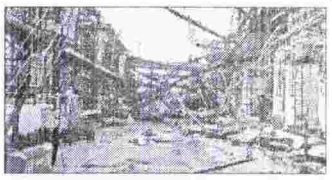
→ Newspaper advertisement in Indian Express.

Fire at Bharuch UPL plant: 2 workers dead, 5 missing



Over 30 people were injured in the accident on Tuesday. Express

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

[illegible] SECURITIES, were killed, five others were missing, and over 30 injured in an explosion in the fire incident at its two of Hazard Chemicals Limited (UPL) at Jhagadia GIDC in Gujarat's Bharuch district on Tuesday.

The fire was brought under control on Tuesday morning and cooling activities were in progress, officials said. [illegible] reports, the explosion occurred around 3 pm on Monday and the fire was brought under control in the evening. Two fatalities were reported in the morning and the [illegible] were identified as Ashish Jariwala and Pankaj Patel.

According to the fire brigade officials, the explosion occurred in the [illegible] of Bharuch. The victims, Kapil Patel and Ashish Solanki, were [illegible] Bharuch.

Speaking to Indian Express, M Mashiya said, "The fire was brought under control in the evening. Two fatalities were reported in the morning and [illegible] are the [illegible] [illegible] Ashish Jariwala and Pankaj Patel."

The [illegible] environmental and [illegible] at the UPL [illegible] since 2 am to 6 pm [illegible] Gujarat Pollution Control Board (GPCB), [illegible] Bharuch Collector [illegible] Bharuch Collector [illegible] Bharuch Collector